Gentlemen:

We have entered your order for 5,000
small white boxes like sample you submitted depth to be approximately 3/16 at $25.00 per M.

We have put these in work for prompt shipment and we feel sure that you will be pleased with the boxes when received.

Yours very truly,

Gentlemen:

Referring to your letter of the thirteenth, we are glad to learn that you can make prompt shipment of the order of 5000 small white boxes. May I say that if it is possible for you to deliver one-half of these or even a smaller portion without waiting for the whole, we should be very glad to have you do so as we are in urgent need of these boxes.

Very truly yours

Gentlemen:

The shipment of paper boxes recently ordered from you arrived today and I regret to advise that they are not at all satisfactory. Our order was conditional upon these boxes being neatly made and in accordance with a sample that had been submitted. I am sending you selection of them together with a sample. The sizes are not uniform; the boxes are clumsily made; the workmanship is inferior and quite below the grade of work shown in other boxes which you have made for this Society.

Boxes like the sample sent were obtained previously at the rate of $20 per thousand and in view of the circumstance that the boxes you have shipped us are notably inferior despite the greater charge for them, I do not see how we can accept them.

Very truly yours

We have received no response to our letter with regard to the white cardboard boxes recently delivered. Did it reach you?

Gentlemen:

Your letter and samples have reached me today; and the box you sent seems a distinct improvement over the previous ones. Unfortunately, the man most concerned in the matter, is absent for the remainder of this week and part of next. Will you in the meantime inform me just what it is you propose to do? I can then place your letter before him on his return, and advise you immediately thereafter.

Very truly yours,

Secretary

Answering your letter of the 18th,
we are mailing you under separate cover, two sample boxes of little different material that we recently furnished.

The difficulty with the boxes used for you was due to the fact that your being desirous of getting them as shallow as possible there was no sides to give the box stiffness or strength.

If the boxes, mailed under separate cover, you think will be satisfactory, we will be very pleased to take care of it for you. Sorry that it is necessary for you to make any complaint, we are

Gentlemen:

Referring to yours of August 22nd,
in which you state that you are going to make over the entire lot of boxes ordered recently as soon as you hear from us, I beg to advise that this is entirely satisfactory. Please be careful to have this lot like the samples last submitted.
